

JASON SAUL

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, MISSION MEASUREMENT

Jason Saul is one of the world's leading experts on measuring social impact. He is the chief executive officer of Mission Measurement, a firm that measures and predicts social impact for governments, foundations and corporations around the world.

Jason serves on the faculty of the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, and is an award-winning author of numerous books on measurement and social strategy, including: Benchmarking for Nonprofits, Social Innovation, Inc., and The End of Fundraising.

Jason was awarded the Harry S. Truman Scholarship for leadership and public service, has been recognized by Bloomberg/Businessweek as one of the Nation's 25 Most Promising Social Entrepreneurs and by Crain's Chicago Business as a "40 under 40" business leader. Jason serves on the National Board of Directors of Net Impact and was appointed to the State of Illinois' Budgeting for Results Commission.

Jason holds a J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law, an M.P.P. from the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, and a B.A. in government and french literature from Cornell University.